

DDI MANAGEMENT IN HIV CARE | THE LIVERPOOL COURSE

Virtual Meeting | 28 September 2022

Program

Dear Colleagues,

We are delighted to welcome you to 'The Liverpool Course 2022'.

This online educational event focuses on key concepts in clinical pharmacology and drug-drug interactions (DDIs), which remain a major consideration in the clinical management of HIV.

Experts in the field will deliver exciting presentations on emerging topics of interest, including the clinical pharmacology of high dose tuberculosis therapy, management of transplant patients living with HIV, clinical pharmacology conundrums, along with complex case-based presentations on pregnancy, cancer therapy, treatment of severe COVID-19, and managing complications of long-acting antiretrovirals.

There will be multiple opportunities for participant interaction throughout the course, with several opportunities for live Q&A dialogue with session presenters and other virtual attendees. We encourage you to join these sessions to engage with expert colleagues and contribute to rich discussions and learning.

We are excited to have you join us for this exciting day of HIV clinical pharmacology education, and hope that new learnings will enhance your clinical practice.

Sincerely,
Program Chairs
