

Welcome

The 21st edition of the European Meeting on HIV & Hepatitis will take place from 7 - 9 June 2023 in Rome, Italy.

Founded more than twenty years ago as the European HIV Resistance Workshop, this unique meeting has evolved to embrace all aspects of the clinical care of people living with HIV in Europe. Particular emphasis is placed on optimal treatment strategies, clinical virology, molecular epidemiology, and public health aspects of HIV, HBV, HCV, and emerging viruses throughout Europe.

In the last decade, the meeting has captured leading clinicians and researchers from different regions of Europe. It is the only European platform where HIV-treating physicians and clinical virologists get together on an annual basis to present their latest research results and discuss their clinical implications in detail.

Meeting Objectives

This meeting aims to gather professionals in the fields of HIV and hepatitis clinical care and research in an interactive workshop setting. It provides a platform for presentation and discussion of the latest developments in the field of antiviral drug development, maps important current studies and results, translates new data into treatment guidelines, and educates clinicians on how to best implement current and new drugs into their clinical practice.

Who Should Attend?

Europe-based clinicians / physicians and researchers involved in the fields of HIV, HBV, and HCV.
Laboratory managers, technicians, pharmacists, and pharmacologists.

Support

To organize this much-needed interactive platform, we rely on funding. Supporting this meeting provides you the opportunity to profile your organization within the respective community and show your commitment to advancing this field.
